Press release

Phare project - Sisters project

CNIT Développement, a subsidiary of Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield, has officially requested the withdrawal of the building permit of its Phare project (La Défense, Paris region), as all the necessary administrative authorisations were not granted. This project will therefore not be continued.

On the same site, Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield will develop Sisters, a mixed-use project designed by French architect Christian de Portzamparc, which will consist of two towers featuring offices and a hotel. A land sale agreement was signed with Paris La Défense in July 2015 and the project was announced in September 2015. The building permit was granted in March 2017 and preparatory works are underway. Construction is expected to begin in 2019.

All information on the Sisters project is available on www.tours-sisters.fr.
