

Product discontinuation ProData2 S0-Modul

Dear Sir or Madam,

In order to offer our customers products of consistently high quality and reliable availability, it is necessary to constantly review our product range, considering technical innovations and the long-term availability of components. For these reasons, we would like to inform you about a controlled adjustment in our component sourcing strategy.

The affected module contains a component that has been discontinued by the manufacturer and can no longer be procured. A direct 1:1 replacement is not available due to technical differences. Production will therefore be discontinued.

Timeline

Last order: 28th February 2026

Last delivery: 31st March 2026

End of Standard Support: 31st July 2027

After this date, Janitza will discontinue regular technical support, firmware updates and repairs for ProData2 S0-Modul. The standard warranty obligations for devices delivered before this date will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms of the contract, but no new software features or non-critical bug fixes will be provided. Please plan your requirements accordingly.

Our sales staff, agencies and solution partners are available to answer technical questions or advise you on alternative devices.

Kind regards,

Michael Kadziela
Managing Director
