

Community of Practice (CoP) for MND Care

Helping improve the care of those living with Motor Neurone Disease

Please join us if you are a health professional or service provider who is involved in, or has an interest in, improving care for people living with Motor Neurone Disease (MND).

Our upcoming CoP meeting

For people living with MND and those who support them, navigating the care journey can be challenging.

Knowing when and how to escalate care, identifying the right people to involve, and understanding what supports are available are all critical aspects of providing effective care and support.

Join our panel discussion to explore achievable pathways for care escalation, increase awareness of available support services and infrastructure, and hear first-hand perspectives from individuals with lived experience.
