

Company News

Gard joins Klimapartnere

Our focus on sustainability and a sustainable maritime development in particular, has led to Gard joining Klimapartnere (Climate Partners), Norway's largest private-public partnership network focusing on reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

Published 29 November 2018

The information provided in this article is intended for general information only. While every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information at the time of publication, no warranty or representation is made regarding its completeness or timeliness. The content in this article does not constitute professional advice, and any reliance on such information is strictly at your own risk. Gard AS, including its affiliated companies, agents and employees, shall not be held liable for any loss, expense, or damage of any kind whatsoever arising from reliance on the information provided, irrespective of whether it is sourced from Gard AS, its shareholders, correspondents, or other contributors.

“As we work to integrate sustainability in our core activities, we also want to focus on our own greenhouse gas emissions and Klimapartnere is an obvious partner for us in this work” says Svein Buvik, Chief External Affairs Officer.

Klimapartnere supports their partners with methods and tools for calculating and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

The organisation was established in 2009 and currently has 51 corporate partners with some 25,000 employees in and around Arendal, Norway.

The information provided in this article is intended for general information only. While every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information at the time of publication, no warranty or representation is made regarding its completeness or timeliness. The content in this article does not constitute professional advice, and any reliance on such information is strictly at your own risk. Gard AS, including its affiliated companies, agents and employees, shall not be held liable for any loss, expense, or damage of any kind whatsoever arising from reliance on the information provided, irrespective of whether it is sourced from Gard AS, its shareholders, correspondents, or other contributors.