

Recent incidents in the Red Sea, Gulf of Aden, and Persian Gulf & its approaches

Updated 25 September 2024

Below is a list of incidents which have been recorded on the Risk Intelligence System during the past 30 days. Information includes date, time and a short description of the respective incident.

Comprehensive descriptions for all incidents (as well as for older incidents) can be found on the Risk Intelligence System.

2 September 2024, Crude oil tanker BLUE LAGOON I struck

The Panama-flagged crude oil tanker was targeted while transiting southbound. It reported being struck twice, including by at least one missile. A third explosion was reported. No casualties or fires onboard, with vessel continuing to next port of call.

4 September 2024, Crude oil tanker AMJAD reportedly attacked

The Saudi-flagged crude oil tanker AMJAD reportedly targeted by UAV, suffering light damage. On 3 September, the owner claimed that the attack was not directed at the AMJAD but towards another vessel nearby.