The Bank is entitled to amend the pre-authorization limits set for the Company either subject to mutual agreement with the Company or unilaterally (in compliance with the rules/terms set out in this Agreement). Furthermore, the Bank is entitled to notify the Company of amendments to the limit(s) via remote channels (including the Internet Bank).

21. This Paragraph sets out the general framework of actions/steps to be taken by the Company in the course of the pre-authorization process, as well as recommendations/points for consideration to ensure secure pre-authorization:

- Notifying the cardholder of the amount to be pre-authorized:

- The Company must provide the cardholder, by written notice (including via email), with information on the estimated amount within which the pre-authorization will be executed, and must obtain the cardholder's written confirmation (including via email) of the specified amount prior to initiating the pre-authorization. Furthermore, if a pre-authorization hold is processed (a reservation/booking is accepted) based on a telephone conversation, the Company shall provide the cardholder, likewise in writing (including by email), with detailed information/explanations regarding the reservation/booking that is valid for 24 hours and obtain the cardholder's consent statement executed in writing.
- The Company is obliged to inform the cardholder by email regarding the available currency options and/or provide them with / explain calculation details/rules based on relevant example(s)/formula(e).
- The Company is required to allow/offer the customer a 24-hour period in which the customer may cancel their reservation without any further charge/fee. If the cardholder does not cancel their reservation within the period allowed / offered by the Company, the Company shall retain the reservation for 24 hours from the time of booking.

- Amended or Delayed Changes

- The Company must provide the customer with information/document(s) about delayed charges in writing (including by mail). In particular:
 - ✓ In case of loss/damage - the Company must provide the customer with the following documents within 10 (ten) business days of the customer's return of the item / checkout, before the transaction is processed/the amount is charged:
 - The amended pre-authorization receipt;
 - A detailed account of delayed charge(s) explicitly indicating the cardholder's connection with the item/service delivered;
 - In case of vehicles – documentary proof of damage issued by the law enforcement authority and/or the insurer; in case of other items/services – any documentary proof of damage;
 - Documentary proof issued by the insurer attesting to the amount of damage/loss and establishing its connection to the cardholder (the cardholder's liability).
 - ✓ In case of delayed charge(s) due to any other reasons:
 - A transaction receipt featuring delayed charges;
 - Documentary proof of the amount of delayed charges (for example, in case of parking and traffic violations – document(s) featuring the vehicle's state registration number, time/place of violation and the amount of fine in the state currency);
 - The Company must provide the document(s) within 10 (ten) days of authorization completion.
- The Company is not entitled to charge the cardholder additionally (for the damages/loss incurred) without the cardholder's consent provided in writing (including by email).

- Recommendations against chargebacks:

- The Company must execute an agreement with the cardholder, under which the cardholder will consent to pre-authorization completion for the services rendered and/or loss/damaged caused;
- The Company must notify the cardholder in a form/within a period set out in this Annex;
- The transaction must be authenticated (e.g. by PIN entry, the cardholder is physically presented with physical card) during the execution/completion of the pre-authorization.
- If the customer is physically present at the checkout (i.e. in the case of a card-present transaction), the authorization must be completed by the customer through using their card at a POS terminal and entering the PIN.
- Point for Consideration/Recommendations:
 - ✓ If a pre-authorization hold is applied at the time of executing an agreement with the cardholder, the Company is entitled to charge/capture the pre-authorized amount (complete the pre-authorization) in compliance with the terms of the agreement;
 - ✓ If the agreement between the Company and the cardholder has already been executed / if the Company has the cardholder's card details, and a pre-authorization is initiated/completed upon detecting damage/loss, the Company must provide the cardholder with relevant information/documentation and charge the amount only upon obtaining the cardholder's consent (including via email). The cardholder shall not be charged solely on the basis of the agreement executed with the Company / the Company's holding of the cardholder's card details, unless the cardholder consents there to;

- ✓ Regardless of the term indicated in this Agreement, the maximum pre-authorization hold period is set for companies according to their field of activity, starting from the date of initiating a pre-authorization:

- 30 calendar days:

Companies operating in sectors such as cruise services, reservation platforms, transportation rentals, hotels, motels, spas/recreational facilities;
